Seasons of Life, Seasons of Worship

Now that it is officially mid-October, the weather has (finally!) turned cool enough to qualify as “fall,” the leaves are changing colors, and pumpkins are appearing everywhere. In many ways, the seasons of the year are representative of the seasons of life. All of God’s creatures, including humans, experience birth, growth, changes, and eventually death.

The fall season of the year reminds us that just as the leaves will change colors and fall from the trees, leaving bare branches, our human bodies too will change and decline and eventually die. These changes, even death, are not to be feared, but are a part of God’s amazing creation. I often remind families at funeral services that just as God cares for us throughout our lives, God continues to care for us in death. When a loved one dies, we can entrust them to God, for God’s infinite love and grace is not limited to our mortal lives.

In a few weeks, we will participate in our annual observance of All Saints Sunday, which will take place this year on November 3. In our worship service that morning, we will remember those members of our church family who have left this earth over the past year:

- | | | | |
|----------------|-------------------|----------------|---------------|
| Joan Mehaffey | Sue Plantin | Lois Tomlinson | Helen Painter |
| Mary Bittering | Jim Stephens, III | Betty Woodall | Mabel Wilder |

As we call their names and give thanks for their lives and for God’s light shining in them, we will light candles, recognizing that the light of Christ is present in the life of each of Jesus’ followers.

In the coming weeks, we will experience shorter days and longer nights as the season of fall progresses toward winter. This season of increasing darkness reminds us of our mortality – that all life, even ours, will experience death.

Worship offers us a different cycle – a weekly cycle. Weekly worship interrupts the darkness to remind us that the light of Christ is stronger than death, and that through Christ, we have the power to overcome death. The seasons of worship, such as the annual observance of All Saints Sunday, remind us of the transformative power of Christ to turn death into eternal life. And so we continue to worship, even with reminders of death and darkness all around us, because we know there is abundant, eternal, and transformative life in Christ.

DEACONS

At FBCP, the deacons are spiritual leaders. They are concerned with the spiritual welfare of the Church and serve with the Pastor as co-laborers. Deacons “shepherd” their flock by praying for, communicating with, and offering encouragement to members of their flock. If you have a prayer request, spiritual need, or concern, please contact your Deacon.

Trick or Treat So Others May Eat · Sunday, Oct 20 & 27

Trick Or Treat So Others May Eat (TOTSOME) is a combined children/youth mission project to collect food which will be distributed by Anderson Interfaith Ministries (AIM). We will leave from the FBCP parking lot on Sunday, Oct 20 and head to the Sherwood Forest community to distribute collection bags. The following Sunday, Oct 27, we will re-visit the neighborhood to collect the donated items. We still need drivers for October 20 (3:30 pm—5:30 pm). The church will also be invited to participate by filling bags for the children to deliver. Bags and instructions will be available at church on Oct 20 and filled bags need to be returned by Sunday morning Oct 27. To volunteer to help or for more information, please contact Keleigh Frazier, Director of Children's Ministry, at children@fbcpendleton.org or mobile (864) 637-9543.

Fall Festival · Wednesday, Oct 30 · 5:45 pm—7:30 pm

"Let Your Light Shine" as FBCP celebrates its Fall Festival, Wednesday, Oct 30 starting at 5:45 pm. A free hot dog supper will be provided at the start of the event followed by a short Bible story, and then games for children up to fifth grade. This event is a free family event. We will need many volunteers to organize and set up games and activities. This is one of our biggest events of the year, as it is open to the community as an outreach of the church. We need donations for the Cake Walk, one of the most popular venues at the event. To volunteer to help or for more information, please contact Keleigh

State Missions Offerings Show Extravagant Generosity

Contributions to the State Missions Offerings have once again shown the extravagant generosity of FBCP. The Beverly Greer Offering for State Missions, sponsored by CBFSC, amounted to $1,050.23. The Janie Chapman State Mission Offering, sponsored by SCBC and South Carolina WMU, amounted to $255. Thank you for supporting important missions work across our state!

Covered Dish Lunch & Quarterly Church Conference Sunday, Oct 27 following Worship

Please make plans to attend our Covered Dish Lunch & Quarterly Church Conference on Sunday, Oct 27 in the Fellowship Hall following Worship. For the lunch, the church will provide meat and beverages; please bring a side or dessert to share. Enjoy good food and fellowship and stay informed about church business. Committee Chairs, please submit your written reports to office@fbcpendleton.org no later than Thursday, Oct 24 to be included in the quarterly conference packet, or be prepared to make an oral report at the meeting. Thanks.

FBCP Fall Work Day · Saturday, Oct 19 · 8:30 am—Noon

Volunteers: Please Check-In at the Fellowship Hall

FBCP Fall Work Day is scheduled for Saturday, Oct 19 from 8:30 am - Noon. For more information on how you can help maintain and improve the appearance of our building and grounds, see the work project list posted outside the Church Office.
